Statement by ICEIE's College of Reviewers

A quasi-experimental study, conducted in the 2022-2023 school year with 6,087 students across 25 schools in California, examined the impact of Nearpod on learning outcomes in grades 4-8. The results showed that Nearpod usage led to higher ELA achievement in grade 5 (IEP students) and grade 8 (overall and IEP students), as well as higher math achievement in grade 6 and grade 8, with no significant differences found in other grade levels.
